ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF TRADITIONAL LAND

We wish to acknowledge this land on which the University of Toronto operates. For thousands of years it has been the traditional land of the Huron-Wendat, the Seneca, and the Mississaugas of the Credit. Today, this meeting place is still the home to many Indigenous people from across Turtle Island and we are grateful to have the opportunity to work on this land.

THE GREATER TORONTO AREA
At the Crossroads of Imagination and Impact

There is no better place for the enterprising student than the University of Toronto: a research and development hotbed that contributes $15.7 billion a year to Canadian prosperity.

Not only are our faculty members renowned the world over as industry visionaries, our campuses are just steps away from Canada’s largest financial district, Bay Street, and nestled squarely in the commercial heartlands of the Golden Horseshoe. Best of all, at Canada’s top university—routinely ranked #1 for funding, innovation, and research output—students can collaborate with friends and mentors in any field to build solutions to the world’s most pressing challenges.

Anchored by the Toronto Stock Exchange, the world’s largest exchange for energy firms, and a business district that headquarters Canada’s five main banks, the GTA is an economic powerhouse that nurtures unmatched talent in everything from cybersecurity to food security, and is acclaimed for its network of 15,000+ technology firms—the famed southern Ontario “digital corridor.”

YOUR CAREER LAUNCHPAD

Major industries in the GTA include: aerospace, biotechnology, design, healthcare, financial services, fashion, and film.

I’ve been at SickKids research institute for the past two years working on exploring ion channels implicated in childhood brain cancers. We found an ion channel that’s associated with medulloblastoma (the most common malignant childhood brain tumor) and when we remove it, survival increases and the tumour size decreases. Specifically, we think it’s associated with cancer stem cells, which give rise to the bulk of the tumor, which could serve as a new cancer therapy target. This was super interesting to me because I came to university wanting to study stem cells (after being sold from a StemCellTalks Toronto event I went to at U of T when I was in high school). Cancer stem cells are something I never learned about in classes so it’s been amazing learning about an entirely new field, within an area I’ve always been interested in.

— Miranda, Faculty of Arts & Science
FROM DAYDREAM TO DREAM JOB

At the University of Toronto—the birthplace of stem cell research, insulin therapy, multi-touch input screens, and seminal ideas in critical media theory—students nurture their ingenuity with the help of 200+ industry mentors and 11 business accelerators and incubators.

Win seed capital, office space, equipment access, and expert guidance with funding applications, prototyping, and IP protection. Our longstanding partnerships with MaRS Innovation and other nonprofit research consortia across the region offer unparalleled networking advantages—and our Career Educators can help you hone your pitch.

GLOBAL LEARNING

Through co-op placements, paid internships, learning abroad options in 160+ institutions, field schools, international course modules, and research opportunity programs, you’ll make industry contacts—and lifelong friends—and tackle pressing challenges like climate change, quantum cryptography, financial derivatives, and homelessness.

Study the history of German cinema in Berlin, the rise and fall of Bronze Age powers on the Anatolian plateau, and marine ecosystems in the South Pacific. The University of Toronto is committed to engaging at least 30% of our students with a global experience.

You learn so much from being abroad that goes beyond the classroom. It’s like throwing yourself into the deep end, and while there is a period where you feel lost, you end up feeling like you have a second home at the end of it. It was the greatest experience of my university career.

— Nitika, U of T Finance and Economics student and participant in the 2017 Waseda University Exchange Program

Field courses are a great way to enrich your degree and expand your horizons.

4,500+ students take part in a learning abroad opportunity each year

71% of students who studied abroad agreed that their experience abroad had influenced their choice of career path after returning

87% of students reported having more openness to different ways of thinking

Students can work towards a Global Scholar designation by taking a curated set of courses offered by their program or faculty. When those courses are completed, students will receive a certificate and a “Global Scholar” notation on their transcript. Students can also work towards a Global Citizen designation that can appear on their co-curricular record (CCR) through activities that develop three competencies: global perspective and engagement, inclusivity and equity, and community and civic engagement. A new Minor in Global Leadership is proposed to launch in 2022.

Faculty of KINESIOLOGY & PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Through inclusive excellence in research, teaching and practice, the Faculty of Kinesiology and Physical Education at U of T educates and graduates a diverse student body who become productive contributors and leaders in their fields. Our BKin students thrive in careers spanning the biophysical, psychological, physical, and cultural, including exercise physiology, psychology of injury and rehabilitation, ethical issues and biomechanics. Students benefit from hands-on learning, community engagement, research opportunities and learning abroad experiences, and can pursue a Certificate in Global Kinesiology & Physical Education or a Certificate in Physical Activity Instruction within their BKin degree. BKin students also have the opportunity to enroll in a combined Master of Teaching (MT) degree program at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE). Learn more: uoft.me/BKin

“The U of T Jazz program has given me many opportunities to play in professional settings, allowing me to gain real industry experience while still in school. Many of my academic performances have led to professional performance opportunities in the city.”

Faculty of MUSIC

A degree in Music fosters critical thinking, discipline, and teamwork. Our alumni have gone on to score films, pioneer new technologies, and pack concert halls. Music students take part in a total of 600+ concerts and recitals each year. From Early Music, to Jazz, to West African Drumming and Dancing, to Japanese Taiko Drumming, we bring the diversity of Canada into the classroom.

Auditions/interviews are held in February. Learn more: uoft.me/MusicAdmReq

“Hands-on learning drives every part of our curriculum.”

I love the size of our faculty because with it being so small it lets you become part of a great community (or KINmunity to be cheesy), and it feels great to feel part of something like this. You get to know most of the people in your year and many of the other years as well and it makes for an amazing environment; especially when you get to places like the Benson student lounge where you see all four years hanging out together and just helping each other out.

I instantly felt that this is the right fit for me. A warm, friendly and encouraging community is what I felt and have loved ever since. I chose a double major in Media Studies and Human Biology because it gives me the balance and different perspectives I need to get the full picture.

— Annie, Media Studies and Human Biology; originally from Aleppo, Syria

Our mission at U of T Scarborough is to cultivate the potential in each student. Overlooking lush parklands on the eastern shoreline of Canada’s most cosmopolitan city, UTSC’s closely knit residence communities are just steps from gleaming, sustainably built facilities and state-of-the-art labs. Toronto’s most diverse neighbourhood—“the dining capital of the world,” as American economist Tyler Cowen calls it—Scarborough is the perfect home base for crafting a business proposal, policy paper, or novel, while sealing the deal over Hakka noodles, banh mi, and bubble tea.

Residence options at UTSC include townhouses, apartment-style units, and furnished single rooms conveniently located minutes away from transit, grocery stores, and malls, as well as scenic creeks and valleys. Under the guidance of a dedicated staff team, the residence life experience is driven by students, through a Scarborough Campus Residence Council whose members see to it that every resident feels connected, inspired, empowered, and at home.

SUPPLEMENTAL APPLICATIONS

Supplemental Applications help us get to know better. They’re a chance for you to showcase your unique experiences, strengths, and interests. We’re looking for engaged students of any background who will bring leadership, passion, and diverse perspectives.

Activate your JOIN portal and follow the instructions. Shortly after receiving your OUAC application, we will send you an acknowledgement email with a set of credentials that you can use to activate and access your JOIN portal at join.utoronto.ca

Once you get the credentials we send you, sign into JOIN and complete the rest of your application. Engineering applicants will be redirected to a separate portal after signing into JOIN called the Engineering Online Student Portal. Submit any required documents by the deadlines listed in your portal.

- Transcripts should be sent electronically through Parchment/Naviance/SCOIR. If your school doesn’t use one of these services, upload your transcripts through JOIN or the Engineering Online Student Portal.
- If you are completing the IB curriculum, final IB results must be sent to the University electronically by the International Baccalaureate Organization (IBO).
- Students completing a U.S.-patterned high school curriculum should note that test-optional assessment has been adopted for the 2022-23 admissions cycle. For full details, including minimum requirements, consult the bulletin at the back of this book or visit uoft.me/UnitedStates.

Applicants to our Faculty of Applied Science & Engineering should always consult discover.engineering.utoronto.ca for complete admission requirements.

ADMISSION AREAS THAT REQUIRE SUPPLEMENTAL APPLICATIONS

If you reside outside of Canada, are applying solely to the University of Toronto, and have neither past nor present experience studying in Canada, you can apply using the “University of Toronto International Application”. If you wish to apply to several universities in Ontario, you should apply through the Ontario Universities’ Application Centre (OUAC) using the “105” application.

Learn all about our application types, deadlines, and more: future.utoronto.ca/apply/applying

You can always monitor the status of your application by signing into the JOIN portal. You’ll also be able to see a running list of documents that you’ve submitted and that we still need from you.

Join the University of Toronto and become part of a vibrant research community. Admission is competitive—spaces fill quickly—so be sure to apply as soon as possible. Then, add @utoronto.ca to your safe senders list, and keep a close eye on your inbox. About a week or two after you submit your application, we’ll send you an acknowledgement email with further instructions.

FINANCING YOUR EDUCATION

Our newly admitted students are eligible for 5,000+ entrance awards, including about 150 scholarships valued at $10,000 each through the President’s Scholars of Excellence Program—just one of thousands of awards for which incoming students are automatically considered. Think you might be a contender?

Check what’s available at awardexplorer.utoronto.ca.
Don’t forget: some awards require a nomination from your school.

FINANCIAL AID

$241M
in financial aid and awards disbursed each year

$106M
disbursed each year in need-based awards

$32M
in financial support to almost 6,000 international students

$110.5M
available annually in merit-based awards

Among our many entrance awards for outstanding international students are the Lester B. Pearson International Scholarships (pearson.utoronto.ca), including those completing high school diplomas within Canada. The Pearson Scholarships cover tuition fees, incidental fees, and living costs for four years. Candidates must be nominated by their schools by November 30th of the year before they plan to start their first year.

To learn more about financial aid programs, fees, awards, and budgeting tools, visit future.utoronto.ca/finances.

What are your admission requirements?

• For minimal requirements from all secondary school systems, please visit uoft.me/reqs and browse to your home country. For a searchable index of our 700+ first-entry programs and their specific prerequisites, visit future.utoronto.ca/undergraduate-programs

• For complete details on Engineering requirements, visit discover.engineering.utoronto.ca

• Are you completing the International Baccalaureate curriculum? Visit uoft.me/IBdiploma

• For full details on our English language requirements, see uoft.me/elr. Qualified students who don’t meet these requirements can explore one of our English language transition programs: uoft.me/eltp

Are applicants required to submit personal essays, reference letters, or portfolios?

If your program requires supplemental materials, this will be noted in your JOIN portal at join.utoronto.ca (or in your Engineering Applicant Portal). While some programs require supplemental applications or profiles—see p. 51—most of our programs do not. Please note that essays and letters of reference will not be considered unless we specifically request them. Should supplemental materials be required for one of your target programs, you’ll be notified after you’ve submitted your application.

Can international students live in residence?

On all three of our campuses, residence is guaranteed for new full-time students entering their first year of a postsecondary program for the first time, provided that they indicate their interest in residence by completing the First Year StarRez application by March 31, and receive and accept an offer of admission by June 1. Students must respond to all deadlines and meet all deposit requirements to maintain their eligibility. Learn more at residence.utoronto.ca

I’m completing high school abroad, but I am a Canadian citizen. Will I pay international or domestic tuition fees?

Canadian Citizens, Landed Immigrants, and Permanent Residents are eligible to pay domestic tuition fees regardless of where they happen to be living when they apply to U of T. However, be aware that admission consideration is always based on the regional high school curriculum that you’re completing.

What is U of T’s acceptance rate?

Each of our academic divisions varies substantially in both size and application volumes, and so we don’t have a defined acceptance rate. In addition, some specialized programs attract more interest and are consequently more competitive, and these programs admit fewer students due to space limitations.

Are there scholarships and financial aid programs for international students?

Check with your home country’s ministry of education and student financial aid programs to see if you qualify for assistance. All applicants to U of T, including international applicants, are automatically considered for merit-based entrance scholarships. Learn more at future.utoronto.ca/finances/scholarships.

If you’re applying to one of our Engineering programs, check discover.engineering.utoronto.ca/finances

ADMISSIONS CHECKLIST

Accept your offer—and keep your grades up. Find instructions on how to accept your offer of admission on the JOIN portal.

Pay your non-refundable admission deposit when you accept your offer of admission. For instructions on how to pay your deposit, go to your JOIN portal.

Apply for a study permit. Required documents may include, but may not be limited to, your official offer of admission to a university, evidence of adequate funds, and proof of medical clearance.

Maintain your residence guarantee by completing your first-year residence application on StarRez before March 31. Your residence office will contact you with your residence placement and deposit payment instructions.

Check your email regularly during the summer. Your Registrar and residence will send you essential next steps by email. Starting in July, you’ll also be prompted to log into ACORN for your course enrolment start time. At that point, you can begin enrolling in courses. Note that first-year Engineering students do not choose courses and will be provided, instead, with a readymade schedule.

Your first tuition fee installment will be due in August. Each student will receive an invoice during the summer, tailored to their program. If you’ll be living in residence, monitor your email regularly for updates from your Dean of Residence. And learn all about orientation week, sometimes known as Frosh Week, at hello.utoronto.ca

“From my first day on campus to now, U of T has always felt like home. Even with 85,000+ students between the three campuses, the sense of community within the colleges and faculties is astounding.

I was not expecting to have such a large support system and so many resources to help me make the adjustment to university life. From the Kinesiology professors, to learning strategists and the in-house academic advisor, U of T has created an environment in which I can thrive and create my own unique identity. U of T offers a great community and learning space that allows students to grow.

HOW TO APPLY

Applicants wishing to be considered for admission to several Ontario universities should apply to the University of Toronto through the Ontario Universities Application Centre (OUAC) using the “105” application.

Applicants who are interested in applying only to the University of Toronto, who reside outside of Canada, and who are neither currently studying nor have previously studied in Canada may apply using the “University of Toronto International application.”

The University of Toronto does not deal with agents and it does not recommend that applicants deal with agents.

We encourage you to apply well in advance of published deadlines. Spaces fill quickly and programs may close before the application deadlines listed below. For complete details: future.utoronto.ca/apply/applying

DOCUMENT DEADLINES

Document deadlines vary by division. For a complete list of document deadlines, visit future.utoronto.ca/apply. We encourage applicants to submit all required documents well in advance of posted deadlines. Once we receive your application, we will send you an email acknowledgement with next steps.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants who have attained a high level of academic achievement and who completely satisfy prerequisites will be considered for admission. Minimum admission requirements vary by educational jurisdiction and program of study. You must present all requirements, including prerequisite courses, to be considered. All applicants are required to present a Senior Year/Grade 12 English course for admission consideration. All applicants must be able to demonstrate sufficient funds to cover all living expenses for at least one year. For complete details: future.utoronto.ca/apply/requirements

Student Permit/Visa

If you are not a citizen or permanent resident of Canada, you should apply for a study permit and entry visa (depending on your citizenship) as soon as you receive your letter of admission from the University. You can obtain applications for these documents from a Canadian embassy or consulate before departing.

To obtain a study permit, international students must demonstrate to Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada that they have sufficient resources to cover tuition fees and living expenses for at least one year. Complete details can be found at cic.gc.ca

Centre for International Experience

Adapting to a new cultural environment and educational system may present some unexpected challenges. The Centre for International Experience is ready to help you with a wide range of services and programs: cie.utoronto.ca

Guardianship

If you are an international student under the age of 18, you may need to appoint a guardian. Your family is responsible for satisfying this requirement.

APPLICATION DEADLINES

Submitting a complete application as early as possible allows your application to be considered for a wider range of admission opportunities — and, in many cases, permits earlier decisions.

UNIVERSITY TRANSFER APPLICANTS

Applicants interested in transferring from another postsecondary institution, whether currently enrolled or not, should review admission requirements for transfer programs. Find more information at: future.utoronto.ca

Some programs do not consider applications from students who have attended another postsecondary institution because the program on which you were enrolled is not recognized. Consider this when planning your studies.

Applicants are required to provide transcripts for all secondary and postsecondary level study completed. Admission consideration is based on the overall academic record with an emphasis on the most recent (or highest) level of study completed.

Applicants who have completed studies beyond the minimum requirements at an unaccredited postsecondary institution may still be considered on a case-by-case basis. Students will need to provide evidence of the level of study completed and the grades achieved at the unaccredited institution.

Tuition Fees 2021–22

The cost of attending university varies depending on your program of study and place of residence during the Fall-Winter academic year.

International students are permitted to work part-time and may be able to incorporate paid work terms into their academic programs. After you graduate, you may be allowed to live and work in Canada, full-time, for up to three years.

Part-Time Work

Part-time work on or off campus allows you to earn extra spending money. Not only is it an excellent opportunity to gain practical Canadian work experience, but it will also allow you to expand your social experiences. You may obtain permission to work part-time off campus following six months of study. You may also stay in the Greater Toronto Area and work full-time during holidays and between academic terms.
